SITE TERMS OF USE

Luxury Desert Escapes, LLC | Effective date: November 10, 2026

These terms govern use of www.luxurydesertescapes.com and LDE-operated booking and inquiry pages. A confirmed stay is governed by the Booking Agreement accepted for that reservation. The Privacy Policy describes how LDE handles personal information.

Using the Site

Provide accurate information and use the site lawfully. Only a person legally able to enter a contract may make a booking. The minimum guest age and any property-specific age restriction appear in the Booking Agreement and Listing. If you act for another person or organization, you must have authority to do so.

Accounts and Security

Where an account is available, protect its credentials and notify LDE promptly of suspected unauthorized access. Do not attempt to access another person's account, bypass access controls, introduce harmful code, disrupt service or collect personal information without authorization.

Listings and Reservations

Availability and quotes may change before confirmation. A reservation is accepted when LDE or the authorized booking platform issues confirmation. LDE will address material pricing or listing errors promptly with you; changes to a confirmed reservation require agreement or treatment under the Booking Agreement and applicable law. Mandatory fees must be reflected in displayed prices as required by law.

Website Materials

LDE or its licensors retain rights in website materials, photographs, branding and original content. You may view and use them for personal travel planning. Commercial republication, misleading use of LDE branding or exploitation of protected content requires permission, subject to rights provided by law. Nothing here restricts lawful criticism or honest reviews.

Guest Submissions

You retain rights in content you submit. You authorize LDE to use submitted inquiries and reservation information to provide the requested service. Any permission to publish a testimonial, photo or other promotional submission must be obtained separately. Do not submit unlawful material or information you lack authority to share.

External Services

Links to booking platforms, payment services, maps or independent vendors may be governed by their own terms. Review their terms before using them. A link does not by itself make the provider LDE's agent or transfer responsibility for its services.

Availability and Corrections

LDE seeks to keep the site accurate and available but may interrupt access for maintenance, security or updates. Report errors to reservations@luxurydesertescapes.com. These site terms do not reduce obligations for confirmed bookings or waive rights that cannot lawfully be waived.

Changes and Disputes

The effective date identifies this version. Changes govern future site use after appropriate notice and do not automatically alter existing bookings. California law applies subject to mandatory legal protections. Disputes about a Booking follow its accepted dispute provisions; these Site Terms do not independently impose arbitration on a person merely browsing the site.
